

ExtremeCloud IQ - Site Engine - Management

Students will gain more detailed explanation of centralized network management capabilities within XIQ-SE. This includes not only built-in tools but also customizations available within XIQ-SE. Device firmware management, device configuration management, and device reporting are discussed. Students have these concepts reinforced with a hands-on lab experience working with a pre-configured network.

Course Contents

- XIQ Integration
- Wireless
- Firmware Management
- Archive Management
- Reports

E-Book For this course you will receive the original documentation from Extreme Networks as a PDF file.
