

Palo Alto Networks EDU-260

Cortex XDR: Prevention, Analysis, and Response

This training will enable you to prevent attacks on your endpoints. After an overview of the Cortex XDR components, the training introduces the Cortex XDR management console and shows you how to install the agents on your endpoints and how to create security profiles and policies. You will also learn how to perform and track response actions, tune profiles and work with Cortex XDR alerts. The training concludes with introductory modules on basic agent troubleshooting, the local broker VM component and Cortex XDR deployment.
