

UFT0350

UFT One Advanced

This course provides a comprehensive understanding of how to leverage and enhance the various features of UFT One by writing test scripts in the Editor. In this course, participants adopt principles frequently followed by developers as they design more sophisticated test scripts. By learning to manipulate dynamic objects and data, participants will learn a skill set applicable for testing nearly any type of application.

The hands-on labs for this course use version 2021 of the UFT One software.
